ABOUT ME

Creative, adaptable, and eager to learn, I am a Digital Marketing graduate seeking to build a long-term career in digital marketing. My experience working with international clients, combined with a background in sales, visual design, and content creation, has strengthened both my communication and problem-solving skills. I enjoy turning ideas into engaging content and helping brands connect with their audiences. With strong English communication, HSK4 Chinese proficiency, and a proactive mindset, I am committed to continuously learning, taking on new challenges, and delivering meaningful results.
